

Once in Distant Lands

Words & music: © A. Baer,
2005 & 2012; arr. S. Porter

meter: 88D8788

D D G Em<sup>7</sup> G D

Once in dis - tant lands lay wait - ing, one who heard the Mar - y has con - ceived in scan - dal; how God's grace sur -
An - swer - ing the un - ex - pect - ed, Mar - y's faith and

G<sup>9</sup> A D D G Em<sup>7</sup>

mess - en - ger's voice. Strugg - ling with the sac - red mean - ing, pris - es us all! Can we com - pre - hend the pur - pose dan - ger en - twined; car - ry - ing the light with - in her,

G D E A G G

Mar - y makes a diff - i - cult choice. To all ques - tions, of sal - va - tion start - ing so small? In the squal - or soon re - vealed to all hu - man - kind. So make room for love's the an - swer; poor are hon - oured, rich re - fused.

D Em<sup>7</sup> G D Em A

of a barn - yard, far from shel - tered neigh - bour - hood,
God a - mong us; peace to all, let peo - ple laud.

D D G Em<sup>7</sup>

Who care Then - will ful we hear plans all this have may time been serve less up - as wit - end mid - ness, ed. wives as How for a can the young God re - girl now born bears turn fam' - us this ly Good to of News? good? God.

G D Em D