

Though Our Lives May Be

Words & music: A. Baer ©2022
arr. S. Porter

meter: 10 8 10 8D

A D Bm7

Though our lives may be in a min - or key, ev - ery If the path is dim and the chan - ces slim, do we We are not a - lone; may our trust be known in the
At the end of day, what is left to say that has

A E A

note will make our song whole; then may what we seek an eas - i - er road? Yet the nar - row One who shows us the way. We can plant a not been heard all be - fore? Yet there's work to sing, and the hope we bring lead to har - mon - y in our gate yields a no - bler state when we help by shar - ing the seed and our spir - its feed so com - pass - ion springs forth each do, see - ing kind - ness through, in a world that al - ways needs

D Bm7 A E

A A F#m D Bm

souls. If our words fall short, or we lack sup - port, though de - load. Is our on - ly aim to as - sign the blame but ig - day. For the time will come when we're set free from win - try more. For the truth is clear and the king - dom near; it is terred, we will not des - pair; but in - stead let's face each or nore the role that we play? Let us re - con - cile and en - view - points fro - zen in snow; but to - ge - ther we in comm - found en - graved on our hearts to re - mind us of God's ap -

A Bm7 E A

D Bm A E7 A deal with grace and in diff - i - cult times, for - bear. dure our trials as we fol - low what Christ would say.
 mun - i - ty, can build gar - dens where all will grow.
 peal to love and the car - ing that faith im - parts.